

Step x Step with Yuko ~sketch archive #8

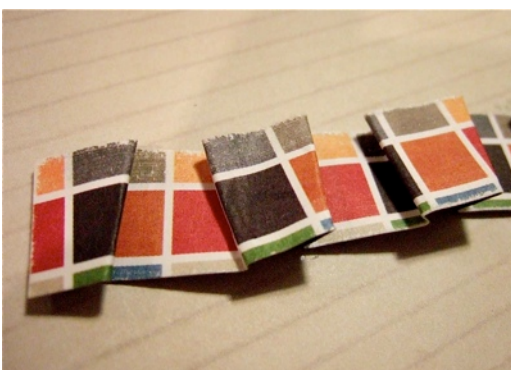

First I chose sketch and then photos to fit in the page.

Then I go through my stash and select which paper would be appropriate for my schema. (in this case it was new fancy pants Rough and Tough:))

Move little pictures around and decided to mat little pictures to make it more standing.

Created a border with a strip of a patterned paper just holding it several times.

I use We R memory keepers BIG BITE when I want to put eyelet in the middle of the paper (where crop a dile can't reach;)

I cut the transparency title in half and adhere to paper with Tombow pit tape which is the clearest glue I have.

Add some rub ons for finishing touch.

Here's my finished page. I wrote my journal in plain words for my son to be able to read;)

extra: I put my eyelets and brads in the plastic case I found at the doller shop.
